

Public Convenience or Necessity

ABC applications for certain Alcohol licenses for Type 20, 21, 40, 42, 48, and 57, in census tracts that are either over-concentrated in licenses or high-crime (over 120%), require that a Public Convenience or Necessity investigation be conducted by the local law enforcement agency. The San Diego Police Dept. is the agency responsible for conducting these investigations for businesses applying for California Alcohol Beverage Control (ABC) licenses within the City of San Diego.

The San Diego Police Department conducts a thorough investigation to determine if the business would be a necessity or convenience to the community. There are many factors that are considered in making the determination.

Please follow the necessary steps prior to arriving at the Office of the City Treasurer:

1. Go to ABC at the following locations and ascertain if a Public Convenience or Necessity is necessary. ABC can determine if it is necessary and supply the relevant census tract, concentration number and crime rate. Obtain their 245 form. Their addresses are listed below:
